COMMUNITY SERVICE STRATEGY

INTRODUCTION

In today's conditions, the education sector is one of the priorities in the policy of the Government of our country. The changes that are taking place as a result of globalization are not insignificant in this area. That is why the real mission of this sector is important in society. The Tajik National University (hereinafter referred to as the TNU) as a subject implementing the priorities of education is a leader in serving the community. Serving the community through the training of competitive professionals is the main mission of the TNU. This is an expression of everyone's willingness to serve selflessly for the benefit of society. TNU recognizes the importance of service to society and pays special attention to the education of patriotism, culture, self-awareness, self-knowledge, humanity of future professionals.

During the «educational hours» teachers pay special attention to useful community work by students.

The direction of service to society is based on moral norms, a rich spiritual world, a healthy mind and body, a high sense of patriotism, national identity and self-awareness, hardworking and beauty, thrifty, tolerant and responsibility.

TNU in the field of public service, methods of social propaganda, more involvement of students in community service and the great socio-political importance of the state, targeted cooperation with government and law enforcement, support for orphans and the elderly, information and participation of the elderly, students and teachers at public events. The activities of the university's social services are based on a new political and cultural thinking, the essence of which is to strengthen national unity and self-awareness, a sense of patriotism, respect for ancestral history and to ensure the implementation of national strategic goals. The public service strategy determines the current policy and prospects of the university in the field of training the necessary specialists, public support, and public information, cooperation with government agencies and law enforcement, advocacy of the university's capabilities. This strategy defines the essence, goals, objectives and prospects of social services.

This Strategy addresses effective ways of providing social services.

BASIC PROVISIONS

1. The strategy of civil service at the Tajik National University (hereinafter referred to as the Strategy) was prepared for the purpose of spiritual and moral education of students, the development of patriotism, culture, self-awareness, self-knowledge, humanity, pride, respect for knowledge, honor and respect, protection of the population from modern threats, support for orphans and disabled children, expanding cooperation with government agencies, law enforcement agencies, public organizations, public information, landscape design, public health, health promotion. The strategy is based on moral and ethical standards and defines goals, priorities and measures to educate students, train experienced and patriotic professionals. The development and approval of strategies creates the basis for the spiritual and physical education of students, the development of a sense of patriotism and love for the Motherland, protection of security, strengthening the independence and prosperity of the Motherland, nature protection, support for orphans and disabled children, prevention of extremism and terrorism. At the same time, the implementation of this strategy will help to increase self-awareness, devotion to the Motherland, national honor and dignity, as well as create conditions for strengthening the legal, political, cultural and moral base of students. The strategy promotes key national ideas such as loyalty to the Motherland, pride in the past, protection of national values and achievements of independence, building a prosperous and civilized civil society among students and respect for such responsibilities. The method of serving society guides students on the path of devotion to the Motherland, respect for national values, self-awareness and civic responsibility.

2. The adoption of the strategy is timely, and its implementation can contribute to strengthening the feeling of love for the homeland, patriotism, self-awareness and national identity of students, gratitude for their health and well-being, their responsibility for the development of the country, protecting their health and environment.

II. THE NEED TO DEVELOP AND ADOPT A STRATEGY

1. The strategy was created as a mechanism for the implementation of national and universal priorities in order to expand the sense of self-knowledge, devotion to the Motherland, national honor and dignity, as well as create conditions for strengthening legal, political, moral values and cultural education of students.

2. TNU will continue to train specialists with a high level of morality, a strong sense of patriotism and national identity, adhering to the highest values of human rights and freedoms, tolerant, responsible, active and creative, respecting great people of their country.

3. This strategy defines the prospects for strengthening social services, taking into account national and universal values. The development of this document is a personal experience that aims to provide a comprehensive service to the community.

4. In connection with the analysis of the current situation, the development and adoption of a strategy is the only effective mechanism that connects students with the state and society, protects them from existing dangers, develops and strengthens their love for the state and nation.

Public works are provided in the following forms:

- Direct service. In this type of service, teachers and students of TNU, according to tradition, on the eve of public holidays such as Independence Day, Constitution Day, Language Day, International Day of Navruz, New Year, etc., visit orphanages and veterans' homes, and they also show cultural and entertainment programs and talk with them on a variety of topics.

- Indirect service. In this regard, the administration of the university carries out its activities in the form of landscaping, including landscaping and clearing of territories, and also strives to provide educational institutions with art objects and textbooks. Teams of university volunteers, together with law enforcement agencies, work to maintain public order in the city, around dormitories, educational and residential buildings, thereby preventing juvenile delinquency.

- Propaganda (Advocacy). In this form of public service, TNU students and teachers actively participate in national television and radio programs on all socially significant issues. In particular, in the 2020-2021 academic years, about 420 teachers and students of TNU took part in about 80 television and radio programs. The folk ensemble of TNU «Navruz» is also popular not only in the country, but also abroad due to the popularization of the national culture. All the propaganda work of TNU students and teachers is presented to the public through the university website www.tnu.tj and the faculty website.

- Research activities. In this context, a methodology for teaching foreign languages at TNU will be developed. Using a community service approach, language teachers often ask students socially relevant questions. For example, students are asked: is our city beautiful? Can you do it better? What do you dislike about the universities on the street? The list of such observations is compiled in foreign languages. Through the use of this method, both the interest of students in society and the level of learning foreign languages are formed.

- Cooperation with government agencies. Annually within the framework of programs and holidays «Year of Rural Development, Tourism and Folk Crafts», «Day of Knowledge and Peace Lessons», 30th Anniversary of State Independence, «National Army Day», «Victory Day», «Youth Day», «Language Day «Day of the Flag and State Emblem of the Republic of Tajikistan» «Day of the President of the Republic of Tajikistan», International Decade for Action «Water for Sustainable Development for 2018-2028» and many other events, about 420 scientific, cultural and sports events, in which almost all members of the TNU community are actively involved, and this initiative will be continued.

The «Civil Servant» method gives certain results:

- Students benefit scientifically, socially and emotionally, that is, through the development of skills, exploring career alternatives and the opportunity to recognize the values of civic responsibility and active participation in society.

- Teachers use incentives to make learning more meaningful for students and to encourage their students to reach new heights and develop previously unused abilities.

- The university leadership encourages faculty and students to achieve the desired academic results, as well as to increase a positive public interest in the university in order to increase their morale.

In accordance with the principles of transparency and public access, TNU provides information on the mission, goals, objectives and activities of all departments of the university through the media, official sites, seminars and scientific conferences that provide the public with information about the institution, its policies and familiarity with its strategies.

Another way of serving the community that TNU is very active in this area is TNU's official website www.tnu.tj. The information on the site is regularly updated. The provision of information for posting on the Internet resources of the university is carried out by all structural divisions of the university. Information is provided in three languages: Tajik, Russian and English. Information about the activities of the university is available to both applicants and students, as well as alumni, parents and the general public. To maintain the TNU rating in foreign and domestic policy, certain structures of the university work through the media, activating the information space. TNU activities are also presented to the public through the development of booklets, presentations, advertisements, documentaries, periodicals, scientific journals. Information about the university's activities is also disseminated in domestic and foreign media through the participation of teachers in city, regional and national events, the participation of public figures, culture teachers, politicians in university events, the publication of articles and speeches by the university administration and its scientists.

In general, TNU seeks to provide services to society through the training of specialists for all sectors of the economy.
